

M.O. Devoss

Following from the Greenfield Republican Holiday Issue 1902-1903

M. O. DEVOSS.

M. O. Devoss, the jeweller at 321 Jefferson street, carries a splendid line of watches, clocks, rings, bracelets, brooches, silverware, besides bric-a-brac, pocket books, and everything to be found in a first class jewelry store. Just at present his place of business is brilliant in holiday attire and the crowds present attest the popularity of his goods and prices. There is a great variety of articles suitable for presents from which to select.

Mr. Devoss is an excellent watch repairer and practical jeweller. Long years of experience have given him the deftness and delicacy of touch peculiar and absolutely necessary to members of his craft. He does not experiment with a watch. He can diagnose what is wrong with it just as rapidly as a skilled physician can differentiate a certain type of fever. His prices are most reasonable and the class of work he does is equal in every respect to that turned out by the highest priced Cincinnati jewellers. Many of our citizens who used formerly to go to the city for jewelry now save themselves the expense and trouble for they find what they want at Devoss' or if not in stock it can be obtained on short notice.

Courteous treatment has been one of the elements contributing to Mr. Devoss' success. He has made lots of friends by his constant efforts to please his patrons and he bids fair to still further enlarge his clientage.
