John T. Mains

John T. Mains, 82, of Upper Arlington, died Sunday, Jan. 10, 2010 at Riverside Methodist Hospital.

He was born May 24, 1927 in Greenfield, the son of John T. and Helen Bliss (Enderlin) Mains.

He attended high school at the Lawrenceville School in Lawrenceville, N.J. and graduated from McClain High School in Greenfield. He then attended The London School of Economics in England and The College of Wooster in Ohio. He was a former mayor of Greenfield from 1966-1967, as were his grandfather and father before him.

John married Marjorie Murray on Nov. 27, 1965. She survives him after 44 years of marriage.

He is also survived by a cousin, Sally Bliss Blesi of Chicago, Ill.; and several nieces, nephews, great-nieces and great-nephews and many friends.

Friends may call from 4-7 p.m. Friday at Schoedinger Northwest Chapel in Columbus, where prayer service will be held at 7 p.m. Friday with Father Timothy Hayes presiding. Interment and a graveside service will be held at 11 a.m. Saturday at Greenfield Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made to a charity of your choice, in his memory.
