DR. JONES.

Greenfield is fortunate in having a corps of physicians who for skill and general knowledge of medicine cannot be surpassed by those of any other community in this or any other state.

Dr. R. J. Jones is one of the most experienced general practitioners and dexterous surgeons in Southern Ohio. But yet a young man, he has gained a reputation of which many doctors of twice his age might well be envious. He is noted for his happy diagnoses and his delicacy of touch and precision in conducting surgical operations. Of course this necessitates an exact and large knowledge of anatomy as well as a most deliberate and aud unhesitating manner.

Dr. Jones' success in Greenfield has been rapid as well as great. His practice, not alone in town, but for miles into the country demands almost every moment of his time and leaves him but little opportunity for social relaxation. He has lately purchased an automobile which much facilitates him in taking care of his large practice throughout the three counties.
